Down on the Farm is the seventh studio album by the American rock band Little Feat. The album was completed and released shortly after the death of the band's founder and frontman, Lowell George, in 1979. It was their last original work for nine years. The band had announced their break-up in June 1979 during the making of the album. Little Feat would reform in 1987. The cover shows one of Neon Park's several duck-girls - an allusion to "The Finishing Touch" by painter Gil Elvgren.

A farmer used to actually farm it with a tractor, and it was always the highlight of E1's week when he saw the "tacter" out the window. Since then, though, it has changed to houses and a golf course...!) And for another fun one we did a couple years ago, I wet some oats down and put some animals in them for one activity.
