The essence of theater is the interaction between the performer and audience. Theater needs to be experienced live. There is a "call and response" atmosphere that can not be witnessed in a movie theater. ~ In a live theater experience, when the audience laughs out loud, or cries, then the actors respond to that energy.

Theater Folk are a superstitious lot, and considering the amount of things that can (and do) go wrong in a performance it's not surprising that folklore has popped up giving an explanation to these occurrences. These myths go above and beyond walking under ladders and opening umbrellas inside (although those are adhered to as well!); these are specifically for those working in the arts.
